What's the buzz? Tell me what's a happening? The Hundredth Anniversary Celebration of our little Temple's dedication and existence, 1925-2025, that's what's happening!

The date of our celebration February 14-16 will also be 16th, 17th, and 18th of the Hebrew month of Shevat 5785.

I have wondered what it might have been like when our Temple opened the doors in 1925 of our first building located on South Orange Street one hundred years ago. What did they sing for their opening hymn? Could it have been Hinei Ma Tov, as we do every Shabbat when we are together?

How did the congregants of one hundred years ago feel that first time they were able to do a hakafah – the Jewish tradition of walking the Torah around the congregation so that each person can touch her – with the newly purchased Torah that Michael Kahn and Alfred Wolfe found in New York City? One hundred years later, that same Torah still resides in our Ark, and we proudly parade her around the congregation. Our congregants read and chant the Torah portion Nitzavim from her every year on Yom Kippur morning!

When the original building was damaged and could not be used anymore, our people came together to build the present structure 1305 Temple Israel Drive. The land was donated by Tommy and Marjorie Wohl. Ron Handley built the structure but did not charge for the labor, only the materials. The mural on the back wall of our social hall was created by Elsa Kahn and her artist friends and represents the city of Jerusalem.

Our dear Phyllis Behrens and Pamela Jay Paralikis, along with other members, designed and painted the area around the Bimah (altar) in the front of the Sanctuary.

The stained-glass windows add more beauty to our sanctuary, especially the one donated by Dr. Lisa Earle, which is dedicated to the victims of the Holocaust.

We treasure our Holocaust Torah #409 on permanent loan to us from the Holocaust Memorial Trust Fund. Some synagogues keep their Holocaust Torahs in a glass case on display. We continue to read, chant, and learn from her most every Shabbat, in a way acknowledging the memory and the souls of those who perished from her original home in Prostejov, Czechoslovakia.

One hundred years have passed, and each time we walk into Temple Israel, it is as if we are walking into a little gem. Our Temple was founded in the spirit of brotherly love, and it has continued to exist in that way for a century. We are truly “The Little Shul That Can.”

A big thank you to each and every congregant who volunteers, who participates in our services, and who helps us financially. You keep our synagogue alive. Let us continue to be worthy of the blessings we have inherited and carry them forward as builders for the next generation!
